An attractive party of the autumn was given Friday afternoon by three popular hostesses, Mrs. George A. Guild, Mrs. W. D. Storrs and Mrs. Walter Weidling. The tea was held at Mrs. Guild's home, 1032 Western avenue.

The house was made unusually attractive for the party by its decorations, introducing a novel feature in the domestic art of Topeka. The center of the table was a huge, circular basket, containing pink lily-of-the-valley roses and tiny white star flowers and ferns. In the center of the basket was a large, frosted light globe, and falling over the light and the flowers was a spray of water from a fountain within the basket. In the living room, the mantel was decorated with low crystal vases of lily-of-the-valley roses, and in the doorway between the parlor and dining room was a lattice of autumn boughs. Ices were served on the second floor, where the decorations were autumn leaves, Japanese bittersweet and purple hollyhock.

The three hostesses stood in line to receive the guests, who were entertained by Mrs. J. L. Work. Mrs. Guild wore bronze taffeta and Georgette crepe. Mrs. Storrs' gown was of white organdie, with bolero jacket of pink taffeta. Her corsage bouquet was of pink roses. Mrs. Weidling wore white embroidered organdie and lace, and her bouquet was of roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Work was gowned in blue embroidered voile, trimmed in blue taffeta ruffles. McEachron wore grey taffeta, with bodice of old rose, draped with grey silk lace. Mrs. Frank Bradley wore black lace, with the bodice embroidered in jet and sequins. Mrs. E. W. Parkhurst was gowned in brown velvet, trimmed with crepe, and her hat was brown, to match the gown.

Miss Helen Brigham and Miss Gladys Gaw served in the dining room. The Miss Gaws wore light blue taffeta, with a flounce of cream lace around the skirt. The bodice was sleeveless with square neck, and trimming was of blue tulle, finishing the bodice and forming a short cape over the shoulders and arms. Miss Brigham's gown was of white embroidered organdie, made over pink taffeta. Mrs. A. B. Kirkpatrick stood in the upper hall to direct the callers to the serving room. She was gowned in white embroidered organdie, with pink sash. Ices were served by Miss Frances Gaw, Miss Kathryn Conkling, and Miss Helen Hunter. Miss Conkling wore blue crepe de chine and lace. Miss Hunter and Miss Conkling were in white organdie. Miss Helen Hunter, who was one of the guests, wore a gown of dark blue taffeta, with embroidered figures of old rose, and her hat was old rose.

Mrs. P. P. Womer and Dr. Edith Twiss of Washburn college will go to Minneapolis this week to attend the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Carlton college. Dr. Womer was invited, but on account of the work of raising the Washburn endowment fund, he was unable to accept. The presidents of some of the large colleges and universities will be among the guests. The president of Harvard is on the program for an address, and also the president of the University of Minnesota and other distinguished college men. Carlton college is a school of about the size and age as Washburn college.

Three little girls from school are going to assist in giving a program of music tonight at Unity church. The children are Alice Vollard, Virginia Squires and Virginia Nell. All three of them are studying violin music and are making good progress in the art.

The Kappa Alpha Theta girls of Washburn had a party Friday night at the chapter house for some of the new girls at the college. The entertainment took the form of cabaret stunts given by the girls of the chapter, assisted by some of the alumnae.

The guests were the rushees, the alumnae members, and some out of town friends, including Mrs. George White, of San Diego; Miss Helen Robinson and Miss Dorothy Miller, of the Kansas university chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta; and Miss Maud Hawley, of Herington.

Mrs. Silas Porter has returned from Clay Center, where she attended the wedding of Miss Ethel Frances Robinson and Mr. George Lewis Kreech, of Lawrence. The bride has visited in Topeka on numerous occasions, and has met a good many of the society people. An account of the wedding from a Clay Center paper is as follows:

The wedding of Miss Ethel Frances Robinson and Mr. George Lewis Kreech, of Lawrence, took place in Clay Center Wednesday evening at the First Presbyterian church. The Rev. H. G. Mathis pronounced the service. Mrs. Wilbur Neill sang "Forever With Thee," composed by the bridegroom, and arranged the organ. The wedding music was played by Miss Margaret Morgan. The maid of honor was Miss Charlotte Kreech, and the bridesmaids were Miss Edwina Dewitt, of Lyons, and Miss Elizabeth Stacy, of Minneapolis, Minn. Mr. Edgar Schmidt, of Galena, was the best man, and Mr. Lawrence Starnes, of Herington, was the ring bearer. The ushers were Dr. E. C. Morgan, Mr. Carl Dammasch, of Oskaloosa, Mr. Fred W. Schrader and Mr. Ed. McEachron, of Salina. Little Lewis Allison, of Olathe, carried the ring in a lily.

Mrs. Kreech is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Robinson. She was educated in the Clay Center high school, Lindenwood college at St. Charles, Mo., and Wesleyan college, where she won the Durant scholarship. Mr. Kreech is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Kreech, of Lawrence. He is cashier of the Farmers State Bank & Trust company at Lawrence.

Mrs. John Stevenson Erskine, who has been in the past two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Leader, left Friday afternoon for her home in Milwaukee, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. Leader gave two dinner parties in her honor. The guests entertained on Tuesday evening were Mrs. J. S. Erskine, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Erskine, of Edgerton, Kan., Rev. and Mrs. W. G. Robinson, Mrs. Lena Davis and Miss Grace Phillips.

On Thursday evening covers were laid for Mrs. J. S. Erskine, Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Johnston, of Hutchinson, Miss Eva Smith and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Leader.

Dr. E. Harding is growing in the garden at her house an uncommon variety of flower, the double morning glory. It is white, with a dainty dash of pale blue in the center. The flower looks like a tiny Japanese chrysanthemum. The doctor invites anyone who wishes to see the flowers to visit her garden Sunday morning.

The Y. W. C. A. held its annual rally Friday night at the association building. Dinner was served at 7 o'clock, followed by the entertainment. About fifty guests, besides association members were present. The girls and women of the association were seated in groups at round tables. The gymnasium class had a table with the director, Miss Kate Williams. The high school girls' club occupied a table at the rear of the hall. Miss Anne Sweet, and the house girls had their own table. Through the dinner hour the girls at the different tables were talking and laughing in sight. They hurried for all the seconds, the board, the cooks and housekeepers, the rally and the eatables.

A feature of the evening was an address by Mr. C. W. Horn, who made a speech presenting to the association two drinking fountains that were his gifts to them. Heretofore there has been no drinking water on those two floors of the building, and the girls have had to carry water from the first floor. Mr. Horn made a gift of a memorial to Mrs. Horn, who died about ten months ago.

The speakers were introduced by Mrs. John Cleveland. She made the formal introduction of Miss Hart, the new general secretary, to the company. Miss Hart, in turn, called upon all the secretaries for brief reports of the work in their departments. Mrs. Armstrong, the secretary for girls' work and head of the employment bureau, called upon the girls. They had a party for the high school girls. There were 150 in the company, and we expect the majority of them to be here for the Y. W. C. A. At our party for grade school girls there were 125, and most of those will join our club. There are half a dozen girls from 10 to 12 years of age working to earn their membership in the Rainbow classes. During the past year we have received a thousand requests from people of Topeka and near the city for girls to work in stores, offices and homes. We have received about an equal number of applications from girls hunting employment.

Miss Williams reported that the Athletic club, organized in February with twenty members, now has forty-five members, and that membership is expected to be doubled in a short time. The club is planning to hold a regatta on the river, and already has $250 toward the necessary sum. Miss Dadds stated that the association has 1,211 members. Her department conducts loans now out of the house, she says, provides for the housing of twenty-three constant occupants and three transients, and the rooms have been full nearly all of the time.

Miss Hart spoke of the growing power of the association, with its chapters throughout the country. Its work is being carried on abroad even in war times, and handling difficult situations in England and Germany, which the government would not permit by any other organization. The addresses, the entertainment to the gymnasium to watch an exhibition of the work of the gym class, afterwards moving playlets were given under the direction of Miss Armstrong on the first floor and a swimming exhibition directed by Miss Williams. The millinery class gave a display of millinery.
